Opinion

by Stephanie Yeagle

View Author Profile

syeagle@ncronline.org
Follow on Twitter at @ncrSLY

Join the Conversation

Send your thoughts to Letters to the Editor. Learn more

May 15, 2018
Share on BlueskyShare on FacebookShare on TwitterEmail to a friendPrint

Happy Tuesday! Here is what's popping on NCRonline.org today:

CHIP funding at risk: Catholic groups oppose Trump's proposed cuts

Chilean bishop says mistakes were made in handling abuse cases

Honduran Jesuit comes to US to promote reforms in US-Honduras relations

Justice Action Bulletin: Mother's Day for Peace arrests; Catonsville 9 memorial

Soul Seeing: 'Please ... forgive us': the story of my return to the church

ICYMI: Russia's Catholics weigh the benefits of Vatican-Orthodox exchanges

Thank you to all who participated in our Spring Fund Drive. We reached our goal! Just because the Spring Fund Drive is over, that does not mean that you cannot still become a member of NCR. Join our community and get some great benefits!

At Global Sisters Report:

Amid Haiti's challenges, congregation continues serving those living in poverty

Blisters for Sisters reveals a global sisterhood in Kansas City

Q & A with Sr. Mercy Kuriakose on healing the sick with homeopathy

Advertisement

In other news around the web:

Cardinal George Pell’s Sexual Abuse Trials May Be Held in Secret

Oklahoma Passes Adoption Law That L.G.B.T. Groups Call Discriminatory

The Trump Administration Just Rolled Back Rules That Protect Transgender Prisoners

Ireland’s abortion referendum: ‘It’s painful and it’s personal’

American Politics Are a Nightmare for Catholic Universities