Opinion

by Stephanie Yeagle

View Author Profile

syeagle@ncronline.org
Follow on Twitter at @ncrSLY

Join the Conversation

Send your thoughts to Letters to the Editor. Learn more

October 24, 2017
Share on BlueskyShare on FacebookShare on TwitterEmail to a friendPrint

Here's what's new on NCRonline this morning:

New book shows path for international relations inspired by subsidiarity, solidarity

Madison priests get directives on funerals of LGBT people

Column: #MeToo brings to light scope of sexual assault, victims' suffering

ICYMI: Russia's Catholics recall their 'gulag martyrs' 100 years after Lenin's revolution

Global Sisters Report: Greening the motherhouse requires big investments and changing habits

Using solar energy in sub-Saharan Africa: If only progress moved faster

Column: Do not fear to hope

In other news around the web:

Donald Trump's approval rating plunges as popularity nears all-time low in latest polls

Prominent chefs oppose baker in major gay rights case

Man wants mom's tombstone to say she 'supported priest rapist victims,' but diocese objects

Advertisement

Iraq's Shia militia 'must go home', says Tillerson

Church of England to debate blessings for same-sex couples

Trudeau on Quebec face-cover ban: not our business to tell women what to wear

Buddhists protest to urge Myanmar not to repatriate Rohingya

The U.S. Is Retreating from Religion

Commentary: LGBT-affirming Christians are more emboldened than ever

From soldiers to monks: the end of a monastery founded by veterans of the Second World War