Opinion

by Stephanie Yeagle

View Author Profile

syeagle@ncronline.org
Follow on Twitter at @ncrSLY

Join the Conversation

Send your thoughts to Letters to the Editor. Learn more

November 1, 2017
Share on BlueskyShare on FacebookShare on TwitterEmail to a friendPrint

Over the course of the next week, NCR will be recognizing that it has been one year since the election of Donald Trump as president of the United States. In that year, a rush of emotion, commitments to calls to action and a need to see, judge, and act have prevailed. Stay with us as we explore several different topics over the next few days, such as immigration, foreign policy, the environment and income inequality.

Editorial: See, judge and act: direction for Catholics

Column: What has the GOP learned since Trump's election?

The entire series, A Nation Under Trump, can be found here

Global Sisters Report:

Grasping for signs of light: how sisters keep up their spiritual energy

Q & A with Sr. Joan Dawber, providing secure housing for victims of trafficking

Kenya election gives sisters another venue to practice presence

Column: An encounter with a Dreamer

In other news around the web:

From school boards to Congress, there's a surge of Muslims running for office nationwide

Rohingya crisis may be driving Aung San Suu Kyi closer to generals

Why Can't Christians Get Along, 500 Years After the Reformation?

Advertisement

My rise, their fall: A theologian's burden in response to the reality of sexual abuse

Faith leaders raise their voices in opposing rights of Christian baker in Supreme Court case

NEW YORK CITY ATTACK: ISIS SUPPORTERS CELEBRATE DEADLIEST TERROR ATTACK IN MANHATTAN SINCE 9/11

How the prosperity gospel is sparking a major change in predominantly Catholic Brazil