Opinion

by Stephanie Yeagle

View Author Profile

syeagle@ncronline.org
Follow on Twitter at @ncrSLY

Join the Conversation

Send your thoughts to Letters to the Editor. Learn more

March 20, 2018
Share on BlueskyShare on FacebookShare on TwitterEmail to a friendPrint

There is a lot happening at NCRonline today, so here are some suggestions to get you started:

Begin with our three-part series on FOCUS, an in depth look at this national ministry that has had massive success in reaching out to college-age Catholics. Part 1: FOCUS promises to 'fight for this generation' on college campuses

Soul Seeing column: Confessions of an 'in-between' Catholic

Joan Chittister's latest column: And a little child shall lead them

Vatican: Church must take risks to grow, Francis tells pre-synod meeting of youths. NCR Vatican correspondent Joshua J. McElwee will be covering the pre-synod meeting all week, so stay tuned.

Justice Action Bulletin: Activists protest Saudi war on Yemen; Students protest gun violence

Commentary: Congressional act set to deport thousands

At Global Sisters Report:

ICYMI: Black spiritual traditions have long history in Catholic Church

Burlingame Sisters of Mercy reach out with solidarity efforts

Column: My grace of being a companion

Advertisement

In other news around the web:

Secretive religious charity run by top US housing officials raises questions

The World Is Changing. This Trappist Abbey Isn’t. Can It Last?

Court hears some alleged historical offenses by Vatican's Pell were at a pool, cinema

After Documenting Nazi Crimes, A French Priest Exposes ISIS Attacks On Yazidis

Longtime pastor removed from Chicago's St. John Cantius Catholic Parish amid investigation