Opinion

by Stephanie Yeagle

View Author Profile

syeagle@ncronline.org
Follow on Twitter at @ncrSLY

Join the Conversation

Send your thoughts to Letters to the Editor. Learn more

June 12, 2018
Share on BlueskyShare on FacebookShare on TwitterEmail to a friendPrint

Here's what's new at NCRonline today:

Border ordinations: US West Jesuits take rite to small church near Mexico

Theologians question Catholic universities' use of contingent faculty

Soul Seeing: God is love, and God's face was looking at me for two years

Column: When I grow up

Pope to oil execs: 'No time to lose' in switch to alternative energy

Spain agrees to welcome rescue boat after Italy, Malta refuse

Pope shares childhood memories with Italian children

Like what you read? Become a member of NCR and help us sustain the kind of journalism you want.

At Global Sisters Report:

As kidney donors, Kerala sisters offer gift of life to ailing patients

ICYMI: How would foreign policy change if women held the reins of diplomacy?

Q & A with Sr. Magdalena Rybak, caring for patients in an ICU dialysis wing

Advertisement

In other news around the web:

Catholics can get married outdoors in two places: In Montana, and now in Baltimore

Religion is uniquely human, but computer simulations may help us understand religious behavior

Many Church Services Are Now a Sea of iPhones. And Clergy Members Think That’s Great.

‘He’s Catholic, I’m atheist. How do we raise our kids?’

Victorian pews sold off in battle for the heart of Bath Abbey