

Celebrate June 5th: World Environment Day

Thomas C. Fox | May. 27, 2009 NCR Today

I hope NCR readers are familiar with the important work of the Commission for Justice, Peace and the Integrity of Creation of the USG/UISG Secretariat. Here is some background [1].

June 5th is World Environment Day and to mark this day the Commission wants us to join in with a number of actions, including saying a prayer it has written for the occasion.

If we are to save and celebrate our planet, its life - our corner of Creation - a conversion of heart is required. At the center of the crisis is a call to spiritual conversion. So consider this invitation [2].
