

Will the poor be represented at the G-8 in Italy?

Thomas C. Fox | Jul. 7, 2009 NCR Today

Catholic News Service's Dennis Sadowski recently interviewed Aldo Caliarì [1], director of the Rethinking Bretton Woods Project at the Center of Concern in Washington, with an eye on the G-8 meeting this week.

"The poor countries should have a seat at the table because ultimately what is decided is going to affect (them)," Caliarì affirmed.

Amen to that.

Source URL (retrieved on 06/28/2017 - 04:53): <https://www.ncronline.org/blogs/ncr-today/will-poor-be-represented-g-8-italy>

Links:

[1] <http://ncronline.org/news/justice/eyes-g-8-meeting-will-poor-be-abandoned>