

Pax Christi not Catholic enough?

Dennis Coday | Oct. 6, 2009 NCR Today

Hold it. Somebody read this article and tell me if I am reading it correctly. Richmond diocese rejected Pax Christi kickoff event [1]

The Richmond, Va., diocese rejected a request by the founders of a Pax Christi chapter to hold their kick-off event at a local parish. The organizers launched the chapter Oct. 1 at Virginia Wesleyan College, a Methodist school in Virginia Beach.

One of the keynote speakers was Bishop Walter Sullivan, the retired leader of the Richmond diocese and a past bishop-president of Pax Christi International.

What?!

Source URL (retrieved on 07/24/2017 - 10:36): <https://www.ncronline.org/blogs/ncr-today/pax-christi-not-catholic-enough>

Links:

[1] <http://hamptonroads.com/2009/10/richmond-diocese-rejected-pax-christi-kickoff-event>