

GOP support for health care bill?

Michael Sean Winters | Nov. 7, 2009 NCR Today

A couple of different sources, online [1] and in the midst of the action today, are suggesting that GOP Congressman Ahn ?Joseph? Cao from Louisiana?s Second District might vote in favor of the final health care bill, provided the Stupak Amendment passes. Congressman Cao is a devout Catholic who won the seat held by indicted Congressman William Jefferson. He indicated back in August [2] that he was undecided, but leaning towards supporting, the bill. His office is not taking calls today, but I hope he and Archbishop Gregory Aymond exchanged cell phone numbers at the latter?s installation at St. Louis Cathedral just a couple of months ago.
