

Vatican investigation of U.S. women religious

Dennis Coday | Nov. 9, 2009 NCR Today

Since the Vatican announced an apostolic visitation of U.S. women religious late last year, NCR has been following the story. To date we've published about three dozen stories about the visitations, including, news, analysis, commentary and a couple editorials.

Nearly every day, we receive a request for one or other of these stories. To make those searches a little easier, we have created an index page with links to the stories that we have done.

And to make it easy to find that page, we gave it a unique URL: NCRonline.org/apostolicvisitation [1]. Share that link with friends, family and interested parties.
