

Ed Hays: Advent, Christmas and the Incarnation 2 of 2

Dennis Coday | Dec. 18, 2009

Episode 2: Incarnation: Experiencing God all ways (21 min.)

"If we believe in Infleshment, then we see God not as other worldly, as separate, as different, but rather as of this world," Fr. Ed Hays tells Tom Fox. "The smell of burning leaves, an evergreen, a turkey in the oven ... Isn't that the smell of God? Doesn't God taste like pizza, a good steak, salmon?"

This is an encore presentation. The podcast first aired in December 2006.

- Click here to add this podcast to your iTunes. [1]
- Right click to download to your computer: Full episode \(21 min.\) [2]

All the episodes in this series

Ed Hays: Advent, Christmas and the Incarnation 1 of 2 [3]

Ed Hays: Advent, Christmas and the Incarnation 2 of 2 [4]

More about Fr. Ed Hays

Ed Hays has been a priest in the Kansas City, Kan., archdiocese since 1958. He is the founder and long-term director of Shantivanam, a Midwest center for contemplative prayer whose name means Forest of Peace in Sanskrit. He has also worked as chaplain of the state penitentiary in Leavenworth, Kan. He has made extensive pilgrimages in the near east, the holy land and India. Today he continues his ministries as a counselor, a writer and a painter.

Source URL (retrieved on 05/24/2017 - 22:01): <https://www.ncronline.org/news/ed-hays-advent-christmas-and-incarnation-2-2>

Links:

[1] <itpc://ncrnews.org/ncrpodcasts/feeds/ncrpodcasts.xml>

[2] <http://ncrnews.org/ncrpodcasts/hays2.mp3>

[3] <http://ncronline.org/node/16283>

[4] <http://ncronline.org/node/16282>