

Trinity Washington University Featured

Joe Feuerherd | Feb. 15, 2010 NCR Today

The remarkable transformation of Trinity Washington University (once commonly known as "Trinity College") is featured in this week's Washington Post Magazine. The article^[1] highlights how Trinity President Pat McGuire, a constant presence at the Northeast DC school, saved the institution and made it a model for modern inner-city higher education. Well worth the read.

BTW, Trinity is cosponsoring, along with NCR, a May 6-7 conference, "A Washington Briefing for the Nation's Catholic Community." Plan to attend. For more information, visit http://ncrnews.org/conference/briefing_may2010/^[2].

Source URL (retrieved on 05/29/2017 - 23:16): <https://www.ncronline.org/blogs/ncr-today/trinity-washington-university-featured>

Links:

[1] http://www.washingtonpost.com/wp-

dyn/content/article/2010/02/09/AR2010020902208.html?nav=emailpage&sid=ST2010021102669

[2] http://ncrnews.org/conference/briefing_may2010/