

Reader requests help

Dennis Coday | Jun. 11, 2010 NCR Today

Just got this message from a reader:

I'm wondering if you at NCR have developed any kind of network or information about efforts around the U.S. vs. the new sacramentary. I know the web site "whatifwejustsaidwait", but can't access the priest who initiated this effort. I can't help but believe there are groups all over the country who are wondering (like our little group here) what more can be done to stop or postpone the new sacramentary.

The Web site this reader is talking about is www.whatifwejustsaidwait.org [1] and there is also a Facebook page What If We Just Said Wait? [2]. These are some resources.

Does anyone else have something to offer? Leave a comment or send me an e-mail (dcoday@ncronline.org) that I can pass on to this reader and perhaps others.
