

Canada's National Post on Cardinal Ouellet

Michael Sean Winters | Aug. 19, 2010 Distinctly Catholic

There is an interesting article in Canada's National Post [1] about Cardinal Marc Ouellet, who is now the Prefect of the Congregation for Bishops in Rome. Ouellet is a remarkable man, and already considered papabile, and as this article makes clear, he will play a vital role in the selection of the next generation of bishops. I am a fan of the cardinal's and hope for great things from his oversight of this important office.

Source URL (retrieved on 07/23/2017 - 11:43): <https://www.ncronline.org/blogs/distinctly-catholic/canadas-national-post-cardinal-ouellet>

Links:

[1] <http://www.nationalpost.com/news/canada/Cardinal+tone+church/3416095/story.html>