

Is there a Catholic position on taxes?

Dennis Coday | Sep. 17, 2010 NCR Today

"The fierce debate over whether to extend Bush-era tax cuts has become front-page news and provoked a steady stream of punditry as the midterm elections approach," writes John Gehring of Faith in Public Life [1].

Gehring says, "There is some pretty specific language in Catholic social teaching about 'reasonable and fair application of taxes.' "

He is urging Catholic leaders to speak up in the debate.

Source URL (retrieved on 07/26/2017 - 20:01): <https://www.ncronline.org/blogs/ncr-today/there-catholic-position-taxes>

Links:

[1] http://blog.faithinpubliclife.org/2010/09/are_taxes_a_moral_issue.html