

Blast From the Past: Lead, Kindly Light

Michael Sean Winters | Sep. 20, 2010 Distinctly Catholic

Earlier, I mentioned the great tradition of hymnody. At the prayer vigil in Hyde Park, the congregation sang Newman's beautiful hymn "Lead, Kindly Light" at the conclusion of the service. Here it is sung by the Wells Cathedral choir. (And, if anyone can find me a video of "Praise to the Holiest" from the start of the Mass at Birmingham next day, I shall be grateful.)

Source URL (retrieved on 07/22/2017 - 07:47): <https://www.ncronline.org/blogs/distinctly-catholic/blast-past-lead-kindly-light>