

Turnout Update

Michael Sean Winters | Nov. 2, 2010 Distinctly Catholic

At 4 p.m. in Charlottesville City, the percentage of voters casting ballots in today's midterm election was up to 34 percent. It was at 25 percent at 1 p.m.

In surrounding Albemarle County, turnout as of 4 p.m. had risen to 43 percent, up from the 32 percent who had voted by 1 p.m.

These are strong numbers in the most Democratic leaning part of VA-5. Look for it to be a long night.

---

Source URL (retrieved on 06/27/2017 - 15:39): <https://www.ncronline.org/blogs/distinctly-catholic/turnout-update>