

Blizzards and Computers

Michael Sean Winters | Jan. 27, 2011 | Distinctly Catholic

Dear Reader - We did not get a great deal of snow last night, but we got a very heavy snow, heavy enough to evidently interfere with the delivery of electricity to my now quite cold and internet-less home. I am writing this morning from a nearby coffee shop with free wi-fi. Gonna head back and see if the electricity is back on and let the dogs play in the snow a bit so blogging may be erratic today.

Source URL (retrieved on 07/28/2017 - 12:04): <https://www.ncronline.org/blogs/distinctly-catholic/blizzards-and-computers>