

Immigration Conference at CUA

Michael Sean Winters | Feb. 18, 2011 | Distinctly Catholic

Next month, the USCCB will team up with the Institute for Policy research and Catholic Studies, Catholic University's on-campus think tank, for an all day seminar on the Church and Immigration. Panels on the history of the issue, current policy concerns and a panel of pundits will be featured. You can read more about the event here [1] and find information about how to sign up to attend.

Source URL (retrieved on 05/29/2017 - 16:02): <https://www.ncronline.org/blogs/distinctly-catholic/immigration-conference-cua>

Links:

[1] <http://www.justiceforimmigrants.org/documents/USCCB-CatholicU-Conference.pdf>