

The Christmas story out of the mouths of babes

Claire Schaeffer-Duffy | Dec. 21, 2011 NCR Today

Last year, artists and children from St. Paul's Anglican Church in Auckland, New Zealand, got together and produced a charming and exuberant video of the Christmas story.

I know videos of cute kids lisping through the Gospel tale abound on YouTube, but this one is professionally rendered and well worth viewing. It is the project of St. Paul's Arts and Media (SPAM), a collective of individuals interested in exploring art and media in the context of contemporary spirituality, and St. Paul's Arts and Kids (SPANK).

This year, SPANK created "Good News of Great Joy":

---

Source URL (retrieved on 06/29/2017 - 02:16): <https://www.ncronline.org/blogs/ncr-today/christmas-story-out-mouths-babes>