

Cardinal George apologizes

Heidi Schlumpf | Jan. 6, 2012 NCR Today

Cardinal George has apologized for comparing the Chicago gay pride parade to the Ku Klux Klan [1], saying today that he was "truly sorry for the hurt my remarks have caused."

I'm not sure what eventually changed his mind--or why it took so long (he made the comments Christmas Day and continued to defend it in the following week)--but I agree this is a step in the right direction.

See full story here [2].

Source URL (retrieved on 07/22/2017 - 04:10): <https://www.ncronline.org/blogs/ncr-today/cardinal-george-apologizes>

Links:

[1] <http://ncronline.org/blogs/ncr-today/reductio-ad-kkk>

[2] <http://www.chicagotribune.com/news/local/breaking/chi-cardinal-george-apologizes-for-linking-pride-parade-to-kkk-20120106,0,4307777.story>