

California diocese takes on ecological issues

Sharon Abercrombie | Jan. 18, 2012 Eco Catholic

The Catholic Green Initiative [1], a project launched in January 2009 by San Jose (Calif.) Diocesan Bishop Patrick J. McGrath, has been opening parishioners' eyes to the seriousness of ecological issues in California as well as across the world.

For a progress report from its water committee, go to The Valley Catholic newspaper website's Dec. 13, 2011 edition [2].
