

A Star is Born

Michael Sean Winters | Oct. 12, 2012 Distinctly Catholic

I have called attention previously to the new blog Millennial, written by Catholic Millennials, but a good read for old and young alike. It is sponsored by Catholics in Alliance for the Common Good. They have a new post up by Marcus Mescher [1] regarding Congressman Ryan's budget, Ayn Rand, and the recent statement from a group of Catholic intellectuals regarding the same. It is very crisply reasoned and written. Keep an eye on Mescher and the rest of the crew at Millennial. Good, good stuff.
