

Kaveny Response Part II

Michael Sean Winters | Jan. 18, 2013 | Distinctly Catholic

Cathleen Kaveny is writing some of the smartest posts on the HHS mandate to be published so far. Here is her second response. [1]to my posting which was, in turn, a response to her first article on the topic at Commonweal. I shall respond to Kaveny's postings when she has completed them but must say that the White House would be in a far different position if they had hired her to explain the mandate a year ago, which is not to say that i am entirely persuaded. But, as I say, I shall wait until she is finished to reply.
