

Newtown resident: Call the tragedy '12/14'

Tom Gallagher | Jan. 29, 2013 NCR Today

MaryAnn Murtha, a resident of Newtown, Conn., teaches communications at Western Connecticut State University in Danbury. Murtha recently wrote a column [1] in her local paper in which she advocates for naming the slaughter of 20 little kids and six adults in her town "12/14," the date on which the semi-automatic machine gun killings took place, not "Newtown" or "Sandy Hook." Her point is well taken.

You can read her article here [1].

Source URL (retrieved on 06/28/2017 - 11:17): <https://www.ncronline.org/blogs/ncr-today/newtown-resident-call-tragedy-1214>

Links:

[1] <http://www.newstimes.com/opinion/article/MaryAnn-Murtha-Call-the-tragedy-12-14-not-4224327.php#ixzz2JHtWLSeU>