

Great PBS Panel on New Pope

Michael Sean Winters | Mar. 6, 2013 | Distinctly Catholic

PBS's Religion & Ethics Newsweekly has posted the video [1] of a great discussion held at Catholic University last week about the papal election. The panel consisted of: Miguel Diaz, who just stepped down as ambassador to the Holy See and is now teaching at the University of Dayton; Margaret Melady, whose husband served as ambassador to the Holy See, while she led the American University in Rome, and who was with the Pope the week before his resignation; Stephen Schneck, Director of CUA's Institute for Policy Research & Catholic Studies; and Kim Daniels from the group Catholic Voices.

Source URL (retrieved on 06/27/2017 - 09:25): <https://www.ncronline.org/blogs/distinctly-catholic/great-pbs-panel-new-pope?splash=>

Links:

[1] <http://www.pbs.org/wnet/religionandethics/episodes/march-1-2013-selecting-a-new-pope-u-s-catholic-voices/14923/>