Great PBS Panel on New Pope

by Michael Sean Winters

PBS's Religion & Ethics Newsweekly has posted the video of a great discussion held at Catholic University last week about the papal election. The panel consisted of: Miguel Diaz, who just stepped down as ambassador to the Holy See and is now teaching at the University of Dayton; Margaret Melady, whose husband served as ambassador to the Holy See, while she led the American University in Rome, and who was with the Pope the week before his resignation; Stephen Schneck, Director of CUA's Institute for Policy Research & Catholic Studies; and Kim Daniels from the group Catholic Voices.
