

Millennial Home Run

Michael Sean Winters | May. 8, 2013 | Distinctly Catholic

At Millennial, Robert Christian has a penetrating and important essay [1] on the way we objectify people, especially women, with ideas of "attractiveness" that can be very harmful. This essay is important in its own right, but it also indicates the way some of our Millennial Catholics see things in ways that escape the attention of some of us old goats. Great stuff.
