

Catholic nun film critic finds grace at the movies

Dennis Coday | May. 21, 2013 NCR Today

The headline should read NCR's Catholic nun and film critic finds God's grace at the movies [1].

Sr. Rose Pacette, our film reviewer [2], is the subject of an interview with the Arts & Faith page of the Loyola Press website. My favorite quote:

For a Daughter of St. Paul, the Word of God and the sacraments are paramount, especially the Eucharist, she says. That cinema especially has a sacramental quality, with its ability to make the unseen visible, bonds my ministry as a Daughter of St. Paul with film criticism and commentary and other media as well.

Source URL (retrieved on 07/24/2017 - 16:09): <https://www.ncronline.org/blogs/ncr-today/catholic-nun-film-critic-finds-grace-movies>

Links:

[1] <http://www.loyolapress.com/catholic-nun-and-film-critic-finds-gods-grace-at-the-movies.htm>

[2] <http://ncronline.org/authors/sr-rose-pacatte>