Michael Sean Winters | Oct. 9, 2013 Distinctly Catholic

This blog post by Tom Berg [1], at the website of Democrats for Life of America, sets for the reasons the group is filing an amicus brief in the Supreme Court's upcoming case on a Massachusetts law that bars counselors from standing too close to the entrances of abortion clinics, as well as other filings related to the HHS mandate. DFLA does good work and theirs is a uniquely "whole life" voice among the pro-life community.
