

Published on National Catholic Reporter (<https://www.ncronline.org>)

January 24, 2014 at 11:32am

Papal encyclical on environment in process

by Brian Roewe

Eco Catholic

Francis: The Environment Encyclical

The Vatican confirmed Friday that Pope Francis has begun a draft of an encyclical focusing on the environment.

From the Associated Press:

"The Vatican spokesman, the Rev. Federico Lombardi, said the document was still very much in its early stages and that no publication date has been set. He said it would be about ecology and more specifically the 'ecology of man.'"

In November, speculation began to rise regarding an environmental encyclical, when an environmental justice coalition blogged that during a meeting of environmental activists -- famously where Francis held up anti-fracking and gold-mining shirts -- the pope "mentioned that he is preparing an encyclical about nature, humans and environmental pollution."

[Brian Roewe is an NCR staff writer. Follow him on Twitter: @BrianRoewe.]

Advertisement

In This Series

Religions must take lead in protecting creation, pope says

Sep 8, 2016

Season of Creation marks month of eco-contemplation for Christians

Sep 1, 2016

Laudato Si' and the liturgical work ahead

Jul 19, 2016

Editorial: We may be seeing the birth of a new lay movement

Jun 17, 2016

Year-old Laudato Si' has stirred up action for Earth

Jun 16, 2016

View all ?

Source URL (retrieved on 04/24/2018 - 2:19am): <https://www.ncronline.org/blogs/eco-catholic/papal-encyclical-environment-process>

Links:

[1] <https://www.ncronline.org/forward/join?clickSource=end-article>

[2] <https://www.ncronline.org/node/160616>