

Pope's quotes: Homilies

NCR Staff | Feb. 24, 2014 The Francis Chronicles

A quote from Pope Francis:

A beautiful homily, a genuine sermon must begin with the first proclamation, with the proclamation of salvation. There is nothing more solid, deep and sure than this proclamation. Then you have to do catechesis. Then you can draw even a moral consequence. But the proclamation of the saving love of God comes before moral and religious imperatives. Today sometimes it seems that the opposite order is prevailing.

The homily is the touchstone to measure the pastor's proximity and ability to meet his people, because those who preach must recognize the heart of their community and must be able to see where the desire for God is lively and ardent. The message of the Gospel, therefore, is not to be reduced to some aspects that, although relevant, on their own do not show the heart of the message of Jesus Christ.

- From A Big Heart Open to God [1], America magazine Sept. 19, 2013.

Editor's note: We can send you a biweekly email alert with content from The Francis Chronicles. Follow the directions on our email alert signup page [2].

Source URL (retrieved on 06/26/2017 - 07:22): <https://www.ncronline.org/blogs/francis-chronicles/popes-quotes-homilies>

Links:

[1] <http://americamagazine.org/pope-interview>

[2] <http://ncronline.org/email-alert-signup>