'Noah' is not your typical robe-and-sandal Bible film

Part Middle-Earth fantasy flick, part family melodrama, 'Noah' is an ambitious leap for Darren Aronofsky, director of the art-house hits 'Black Swan' and 'The Wrestler.' Both of those films were showered with praise and awards. 'Noah,' on the other hand, has sailed into stiff criticism.

Looking for a little inspiration to begin your day? NCR's sister publication,

Celebration, gives you two options, both based on the Scripture readings of the day:

Pencil Preaching is a blog in which Celebration editor Pat Marrin combines Scripture and sketching to reflect on the Word.

Daily Bread is a series of short reflections written by four authors who meet regularly to share the readings. Daily Bread is intended to help daily preachers and others who pray from the assigned Scriptures each day to orient themselves to the Living Word addressed to the church in the world. It's a great way to begin the day.
