

Silk on +Lustiger and Jewish Identity

Michael Sean Winters | Apr. 3, 2014 Distinctly Catholic

Mark Silk at RNS [1] has some interesting observations on the showing of a film about Cardinal Jean-Marie Lustiger, the Jewish convert who became Archbishop of Paris, at a recent Jewish film festival. Cardinal Lustiger was not a man after my own heart, except on the way he refused to renounce his Jewish identity. Even in death: Before his body was carried into the Cathedral of Notre Dame in Paris for the funeral, Jewish prayers were recited over his coffin. (At 14:00 in the video below.)

Source URL (retrieved on 07/27/2017 - 21:55): <https://www.ncronline.org/blogs/distinctly-catholic/silk-lustiger-and-jewish-identity>

Links:

[1] <http://marksilk.religionnews.com/2014/03/31/cardinal-lustiger-wows-hartford/>