

The Vatican's Sustainability Conference

Michael Sean Winters | May. 13, 2014 | Distinctly Catholic

Here is our friend Dan Misleh's blog [1] about the Holy See's conference on sustainability. Dan is the director of the Catholic Covenant on Climate Change and we met a few years back when he organized a conference on Benedict XVI's writings on the environment. With all the excitement about a Pope named Francis, writing an encyclical on the environment, it is good to remember that Pope Benedict, old, stodgy, German, professorial, Benedict, who really got the ball rolling on developing a theology of the environment adequate to the changes we face today.

---

Source URL (retrieved on 05/23/2017 - 04:20): <https://www.ncronline.org/blogs/distinctly-catholic/vaticans-sustainability-conference>

Links:

[1] <http://catholicclimatecovenant.org/dans-blog-from-rome/>