

Pope's quotes: Development that gives life

NCR Staff | Jul. 30, 2014 The Francis Chronicles

A quote from Pope Francis:

"This is one of the great challenges of our age. Reverting to a development that knows how to respect creation. I see in America, in my homeland; many forests swept away, that become land that cannot be cultivated, that can no longer give life. This is our sin: exploiting the land and not letting her give us what she has inside, with our help through cultivation."
