2021 ANNUAL IMPACT REPORT

An Annual Summary for NCR Forward Members
DEAR NCR FORWARD MEMBER,

This is our annual accounting of the work we did on your behalf, and with your support, over the past year. And what a year it was.

The inauguration of President Joe Biden as the nation’s second Catholic president prompted an ongoing debate about what columnist Michael Sean Winters refers to as “the estuary where church and state meet.”

With Pope Francis and the American bishops taking quite different approaches to the controversy surrounding President Biden’s support for abortion rights, we’ve done our best to address the implications and nuances of the impact of Catholic social teaching on national policy.

We’ve explored that issue and more in news coverage, commentary and live events aimed at equipping you with the kind of smart, provocative perspectives you need to form your own views.

We recognize that your media diet includes multiple formats. We welcome the chance to serve up NCR in a variety of ways, including Twitter, Facebook, a podcast, a cartoon and our own livestreams. Not to mention every day on NCRonline.org and every other week in print.

This is the time of year when journalists dig through the previous year’s clips to select outstanding work to be entered in contests. The 2021 picks for NCR and Global Sisters Report are too many to list, but here’s a handful providing a taste of the depth and range of our coverage over the course of the year:

- Building a Common Future, our series of 20 essays and videos offering advice to the new president
- Our reckoning, a report by Global Sisters Report’s Dan Stockman looking at the work sisters are doing to examine their role in systemic racism
- An Estate Plan for the Earth, a multi-media exploration by environment correspondent Brian Roewe and GSR international correspondent Chris Herlinger on what congregations of women religious are doing with their land holdings
- The columns of Michael Sean Winters that examine the nexus of religion and politics
- NCR editorials, including our assessment of Biden’s first year and our selection of our Catholic newsmaker of the year for 2021 (it wasn’t Biden).

We’re able to produce this work as a result of the support provided by our members and donors. So thank you! And please consider supporting us again this year, perhaps with a one-time donation or an increase in your monthly membership amount. If you know of someone you think might be interested in becoming a member of NCR Forward, please feel free to forward this report and point them to the sign-up page.

All best for 2022,

Bill Mitchell

Note: Along with many news sites, NCR experienced a dip in website traffic in 2021. The bigger numbers for 2020 were driven, in our case, not only by COVID-19 but by an unusually news-heavy January 2020 that included the Capitol insurrection and the inauguration of the nation’s second Catholic president.
In 2021, NCR offered six online events exclusively for NCR Forward members. The presentations included topics such as “What Black Lives Matter Can Mean for Catholics” and “Biden and the Bishops: Culture Wars or Communion,” the latter which was held in partnership with Fordham Center Religion of Culture. NCR members were invited to an online Lenten retreat with Fr. Michael Joncas and Advent retreat with Sr. Nancy Sylvester, which was held in partnership with the Global Sisters Report (GSR).

In addition to the events offered exclusively to NCR Forward members, members were invited to special online sessions sponsored by GSR. Members took part in presentations on anti-human trafficking, the ministry of sisters at the borders, and learned about how sisters have become leaders in local land conservation, preserving their land for future generations.

The sessions were recorded and can be accessed here: ncronline.org/forward/memberseries.

“I became an NCR Forward member because NCR gives us a balanced view of the church. It is an important voice, and I want to be sure that it stays out there so that our voice will continue to be heard.”
